My opinion is Mark Dimondstein swindled the postal office of 1.6 billion dollars by placing clerks in management positions and having them funnel money through the grievance database by creating an overpayment invoice and then calling it "non-federal debt". Fredric Rolando knew about this and that is why the lawyer up and wanted to dismiss this case. The Postmaster Generals Patrick Donahoe 2011, Megan Brennan2018 and Louis DeJoy2020 all new about this and help cover it up as an invoice of indebtedness. But little did they know that when overpayment happens, I become my own employer and is required by tax law a w-2 to offset income I was paying myself for. Therefore Mark Dimondstein owes me a w-2.
